THE NEW SCHOOL

Of St. Joseph's Convent had its Corner Stone Laid

WITH IMPOSING EXERCISES.

The Event Occurred Sunday After noon, and was Witnessed by a Large Throng of People - A Splendid Street Demonstration Preceded it by the Catholic Societies of Wheeling and Vicinity Father Altmeyer's Address.

Yesterday afternoon the corner stone of the new St. Joseph's academy for girls, on Eoff street, adjoining the Cathedral, was laid in the presence of a large assemblage of Catholics of Wheeling and vicinity. This ceremony was preceded by an imposing street demonstration, and the exercises at-tending the corner stone laying, while brief, were unfortunately marred by alternate outbursts of wind and rain.

The exercises occurred from a platform erected over the foundation of the form erected over the foundation of the new building. As protection from the sun, a large canvas canopy had been erected, whose supports were tastefully decorated with the national colors, and large American flag occupied a conspicuous position. A violent wind storm nearly carried the canopy away, just as the exercises were about to begin, and some time was consumed strengthening the guy-ropes. Drizzling rain at intervals contributed to the brevity of the ceremonies.
The affair was set for 3 o'clock, and it was but a few minutes later when the parade arrived at the building. Then a procession of altar boys, with Bishop Donahus and local and visiting clergy, wended its way from the Cathedral across the convent grounds to the speakers' stand. After Meister's band played a suitable selection Bishop Donahue blessed the stone, and he laid it in place, assisted by Contractor P. J. Gilligan. A box containing coins and newspapers was stored away in a depository in the stone.

The party then took seats on the age. Among the clergy were Bishop Donahue, Father Shandelle, S. J., of Georgetown university; Fathers Mc-Bride, Moye, Harris and Altmeyer, of the Cathedral; Kluser, of Edginton's Lane; Mullen, of the Church of the Imaculate Conception; Boyce, of Moundsville

The only address on the occasion was by Father Altmeyer, who said:

"Right Reverend Bishop, Reverend Fathers, Ladies and Gentlemen:—Filled with feelings of love and gratitude we have assembled to lay the corner stone of a new academy to be erected by and under the control of the Sisters of St. Joseph of the diocese of Wheelite" of St. Joseph of the diocese of Wheeling."

The reverend gentleman then reminded his auditors of the deep gratitude many of them owed the Sisters for the thorough education received by them in past years, and still given to the children at the present time by their able teachers. He then added:
"I am interpreting correctly the sentiment of these people before me when I say that they have gathered here this aftermoon to do honor to the Sisters of St. Joseph, and to show their appreciation of the work they have done since their coming into our faildst."

After alluding to the introduction of ters of St. Joseph, and to show their appreciation of the work they have done since their coming into our fiddst."

After alluding to the introduction of the Sisters into the diocese in 1853 by the Rt. Rev. R. V. Whelan, of sainted memory, the speaker dwelt at length upon the increase of their labors throughout the diocese, despite the hardships to be undergone and the sacrifices to be made, and "to-day we lay the corner stone of the new St. Joseph's Academy, whose doors will be open to all the girls of the Cathedral parish and Wheeling."

The sellcitude of the church in the matter of education was then taken up, and a plain statement made of the high standard attained by the Catholic schools in the state of West Virginia, as well as the Catholic educational establishments in various parts of the Union.

"Religious and popular education will go hand in hand, and the pupils who attend this academy will be hourly under the religious influences which must necessarily develop the germs of faith, hope and charity implanted in the soul by the sacrament of baptism. To the English studies taught in all schools will be added that religious instruction and training which enables the Catholic man and woman to estimate life at its proper value. Gleanings from the life of our Lord Jesus Christ, of the Apostles, martyrs, the doctors of the church and the saints of all ages will daily strengthen the love of God, and a desire for the things of eternity in their young hearts. To do this will not interfere with the thoroughness of the church and the saints of all ages will daily strengthen the love of God, and a desire for the things of eternity in their young hearts. To do this will not interfere with the thoroughness of the church, but likewise to the past record of the academy has proved underniably. The arts, Latin and the modern languages will be continued as in the past, but under more favorable conditions. In a word, the young ladies who complete the course in St. Joseph's Academy will leave it perfect ladies, perfect Chr academic course.

"The Sisters of St. Joseph, in the erection of this stately school, have undertaken much for the cause of Catholic education, bu with God's help and under the patronage of St. Joseph they will succeed."

will succeed."

The reverend gentleman concluded by invoking the blessing of Almighty God upon the work already begun, and upon all those who in future by word or deed support and strengthen the cutter.

The parade formed at 2 p. m. at St. Alphonsus' church, South Market street, and was made up as outlined in Saturday's Intelligencer with the excaption of the Cathedral Cadets and St. Stanislaus' society, who were unable to turn out. The various organizations made a fine appearance and nearly all turned out strong. The route was from St. Alphonsus' church, on Market to Twelfth to Eoff, to the convent school, where the column disbanded. The Chief marshal was Colonel Bernard Bach, and it was made up as fol-

CHANGES DESIRED

By Druggists and Others in the War Revenue Law-A Revenue Official Suggests How the Annoyance May be Brought to an end.

aIn nearly every branch of business there is an energetic agitation for ma-terial changes in the war revenue law at the next session of Congress. Conditions have changed since the law was enacted, and it is likely it will receive many amendmen's. The retail drug-gists, especially, have objected to the annoyances and expense entailed upon them, especially the former. A move ment is on foot to take away from the druggists all this annoyance by placing the tax in a lump on the manufacturers. The plan is thus explained by an internal revenue official;

"At the present time three and four four times the amount of the tax intended by the law is exacted from the public. I think the taxing of total sales will result in more revenue to the government at less expense and will relieve the retailer, jobber, wholesaler and manufacturer of the present intricate and troublesome practice of plac-ing a stamp or stamps on every taxable article when sold. The revenue law pro-visions as to stamping proprietary goods have played great havoc with retail prices. I know it to be an actual fact that because of the stamp taxes there is on many articles a difference of 25 per cent in price. In outlying towns and districts dealers have also taken advantage of the stamp tax to increase prices beyond the amount of the tax, thus imposing an unjust burden upon the consumer. By a tax on gross receipts this evil would be obviated. It would be simplier for the government, and the question as to what portion of that tax should be borne by the retailer, jobber or consumer could be adjusted between them and the manufacturer and wholesaler, The present tax is 2½ per cent on a re-tail basis; my recommendation is that it be 1½ per cent of the total sales, placing it on a wholesale basis and making the tax practically one-half what it is at present. All extraordinary details lead to expense and also give an excuse for increased exactions on consumers. In the course of personal investigations I have found people ignorant of the law's requirements and grossly imposed upon. I also know that large

By the Commissioner of Internal Revenue Affecting Banks.

Commissioner Wilson, of the internal revenue department, has issued a circular absolutely prohibiting banks from affixing stamps to checks unstamped when presented, and requiring them to return the same to the drawers. In his circular to collect ommissioner says: You are directed to notify the banks that are guilty of stamping unstamped checks that if the practice is not immediately discontinued they will be reported to the United States district at-torney for prosecution. The instruction contained in treasury decision No. 19,606, under the date of June 29, 1898, to the effect that there was no object tion to the affixing by the bank of the requisite stamps to an unstamped check presented for payment is hereby revoked. This instruction was given to meet an emergency immediately preceding the taking effect of the stamp act on July 1, 1898, in order to obviate the necessity of returning by the banks by drawers in ignorance of the law. The law being now generally understood there is no further need of such permission.

mento recently issued in the city Matanzas, signed "Betancourt," and calling upon Cubans to prepare to huri from the country the "crafty eagle" as they had removed the "haughty and hungry Spanish lion," is now believed by many to have been the production of the civil governor of Matanzas.

The reasons for this view are not ery convincing, but Senor Betancourt

The reasons for this view are not very convincing, but Senor Heatmoourth as not positively denied the authorship, and it is notorious that he has expressed almost identical sentiments in the Hawans cafes on different occasions before American officers. He once used language closely resembling that of the "proclamation" in the presence of an American brigadier general and an American colonel.

Both officers believe it quite probable that he wrote the appeal. If not its author, then in their judgment, he was cognizant of it and agreed to the use of his name. Many Cuban officers of high rank are also satisfied that Senor Betancourt was in some way intimately related to the publication and circulation of the address to the people of Maianzas. General Wilson, military governor of the Maianzas-Santa Clara depertment, will doubeless ask the civil governor for an explanation in case there is no denial from ask the civil governor for an explana-tion in case there is no denial from

A Cuban major called at the paince yesterday to ask an interview with the governor general, whom he said he would ask to give him an appointment in the customs house. Lieut. Castle, of General Brooke's staff, informed him that he aust make his application in the usual way, setting forth his qualifications and submitting a certificate of good moral character. To this the Cuban officer replied that he had earned the position by fighting for the revolution, and that if he did not get it he would take to the woods as several others had done. During the afternoon another applicant, a negro lieutenant, insisted on seeing General Brooke, in order to make a personal Brooke, in order to make a personal appeal for $76. He said he needed the money, and insisted upon waiting. After an hour or so the man, who looked fat and happy, asked Lieut. Castle for the loan of ten cents.
